NOTICE.

All communications, either of an editorial or business character, should be addressed to HILTON & CAMPBELL, box 18, Stanford, Ky.

All monies remitted for advertising, subscription or job work must be sent in checks, post-office money order or express or it will be at the parties own risk.

OUR AGENTS:

Jas Cook, Hustonville; Hiram Roberts, Crab Orchard; W. C. Curd, Somerset; E. H. Bryant, Gum Sulphur; L. S. Jones, Pine Hill; Thos. North, Monticello; Mr. J. J. Brown, Mt. Vernon; J. D. Bustin, Highland; Sam. P. Campbell, Bernersville.

Newspaper Laws.

We would call the special attention of postmasters and subscribers to the following synopsis of the newspaper laws:

1. A postmaster is required to give notice by letter (returning a paper does not answer the law) when a subscriber does not take his paper out of the office, and state the reasons for its not being taken; and a neglect to do so makes the postmaster responsible to the publisher for the payment.
2. Any person who takes a paper from the postoffice, whether directed to his name or another, or whether he has subscribed or not, is responsible for the pay.
3. If a person orders his paper discontinued, he must pay all arrearages, or the publisher may continue to send it until the payment is made.
4. If the subscriber orders his paper to be stopped at a certain time, and the publisher continues to send, the subscriber is bound to pay for it if he takes it from the postoffice. The law proceeds upon the ground that a man must pay for what he uses.
5. The courts have decided that refusing to take newspapers and periodicals from the postoffice, or removing and leaving them uncalled for, is prima facie evidence of intentional fraud.

TO ADVERTISERS.

The rates we have established for advertising will be strictly adhered to in every instance. They are as low as any paper established on a firm basis, with a wide circulation, can do business. We desire choice advertisements, and will give preference always to local patronage. We think business men will get value received when they employ our columns in making known their business to our hundreds of readers; and, therefore, ask no one to patronize us out of charity, and do not want a man's money unless we give him value received. A glance at our paper will convince shrewd observers of the advantages our columns offer, as the best business men in this country are represented in them. We could easily fill our paper with foreign advertisements, sundry humbugs, patent medicines, etc., but are not working on the Jew principle—inserting stuff in our columns that we would blush to recommend to our readers, at lower rates than we charge home patrons, just to fill up—we charge all alike, foreign and local—and reject all that are not reliable and worthy the attention of our readers. As an inducement to reliable wholesale business houses, we say that the JOURNAL has a larger circulation in four counties of Kentucky than all the other Kentucky newspapers combined.

KENTUCKY SHORT STOPS.

Epizootic, in a fatal form, has appeared in Trimble county.

Forty Farmers Granges have been established in Kentucky. Clark county has one.

Elder Samuel Rogers celebrated his eighty-fourth birthday at the residence of his daughter, Mrs. Judge Boyd, in Cynthiana, last Thursday.

The colored men of Frankfort instituted a Lodge of Odd Fellows last Monday night. They derive their charter from England—the Manchester Unity.

Jesse Turney, Sr., a wealthy farmer at Millersburg, passed his 78th year on the 28th of last month. He personally conducts all of his farming interests.

The Shelby Grange has already grown to sixty members. The pretty women went in, and all the ugly men followed. Oh, 'oman, 'oman, thou art a success!

We heard a farmer Monday complaining that he had hogs, cattle, sheep and hemp for sale, but was compelled to buy his chewing tobacco on credit. —Shelby Courier.

The work on the E. & P. extension is being pushed with energy. It is now expected that trains will be running through from Louisville to Paducah by the 1st of February next.

Richard Gilmore, a colored man, was found dead on the street in Lebanon on Thursday night the 13th. He was drunk and it is supposed went to sleep on the sidewalk and froze to death.

It is reported that Rev. J. W. McGarvey, the expelled professor, has been tendered the chair of Sacred History in the University of Virginia, and that it is probable that he will accept.

Willis Adams, of Mt. Vernon, has a peacock 39 years old; a turkey gobbler which weighed 31 pounds, the bones of which were pronounced by the pulic to be those of a sheep; also a web-footed hen. —Echo.

Many saloon-keepers in different parts of the State have not only signed the petition now being circulated for a new liquor license law, but have induced many of their customers to follow their praiseworthy example.

A thirty-eight year old cob pipe is in the possession of the Shelby Sentinel man. It was made of a cob from which the corn was eaten by oxen used in the manufacture of salt in the Mammoth Cave in 1811. The cob was taken from the Cave in 1839, and made into a pipe. This goes to prove conclusively, that oxen did not munch "corn, cob and all," in those days, as they do now.

The latest news from the Cincinnati Southern Railroad is this from a Chattanooga paper: Our fighting editor has had his boots half-soled, and the next man who comes into the office and asks where the Southern Railroad will be located, will have to have his pantaloons half-soled. Some people think an editor ought to perform miracles. We may be able to predict, to a minute, the beginning of the millenium, but the Southern Railroad does not come within the scope of the inspiration of any living prophet.

NO PANIC could come to an end unless the more fluent portion of the financial world determined to cheer up and go about its business in the ordinary way. The first step toward a rally, in all panics, is to stop running, and leave off taking distant pigs for cavalry, and the rumbling of cart wheels for artillery. —The Nation.

VOLUME 1 MARRYING A WIDOW.

Thirty years old to-day.

Could it be possible that Marks, had jumped from the threshold of matrimony? I asked my mother.

She counted her fingers, and Joe, Charley and Henna, Susan, Betsey and Eliza, Hannah, Ellen and Sallie, Julia, Marian and Minnie, of her small family; finally I was thirty years old.

I was unmarried. I had ten years all matrimony, but now, feeling the creeping on, I concluded an unhealthy thing to my wife. How to get to a successful consideration of the question.

Possessing the idea of going marriageable, I didn't stop my mind to advertising. The Times, on the other hand, contained the

MATRIMONY. A young man, possessing in appearance, habits, etc., desirable, a young lady with a matrimonial alliance, de visite, to "ANXIOUS" office."

Three days after this, I had received fifty replies. I was generously assured only person in Podwick, after conjugal

I opened the letter whole days to the that suited me best envelope surrounded indication that the attended a funeral the nature of the evidence enough the grief to interfere with promised consolation follows:

"MR. ANXIOUS SEAT desire to correspond with perhaps you may not who, though young, is a three years of age, have tion, I believe, and as for ance, I leave you to judge carte de visite. Should you me further, please address Haddam."

Her visite was a beautiful my fancy exactly. But still Here was an objection, yet the matter thoroughly, allowing my prejudices took what I conceived to be view of it. I reasoned thus:

"She is a widow. Being application is an argument in my resolution to marry. cause she has been married, so that she is willing to marry Matrimony, therefore, must be state of happiness."

I wrote her a letter, and in received a reply. Other epistles; finally, one pleasant afternoon found myself in East Haddam presence of Mrs. Wilsonburg.

It is sufficient to say that the was mutually agreeable. The lady was attired in mourning, who so becoming to her complexion never once thought of Wilsonburg ceased.

Her politeness was charming, conversational powers were superior.

"Her voice was ever soft, Gentle and low; an excellent thing in woman."

Her figure was natural, not made to order, by supplies of whale and, altogether, your humble servant was completely alive to her virtues, if she had any faults, was very blind to them.

I was ready to be married, being enthusiastically smitten right "on line, if it took all summer;" but prudence dictated that we had better not in a hurry—folks would talk about etc.,—and our decision was to wait a few months, and then settle down Podwick together.

Time passed at a remarkably slow through the days and weeks which lowed. Christmas came at last, and day following had been agreed upon our wedding festivities.

Now, I desire to ask the master, reader, who has a wife and babies, if feelings were anything like mine during the day preceding his investment of or ten dollars in a ministerial hand "services rendered?" It was the nervous day I had ever experienced it being the last day of my single edness, did not furnish as much security as many which had passed. Yet convictions on the subject of marriage were not to be shaken. And I here mark that it is my belief that the man who has been on a matrimonial anxious seat several months, when brought to within a few hours of the consummation devoutly to be wished, has as perfect and clear an idea of his situation as possible for human nature—

"So clear, so shining, so evident, That it will glimmer through blind men's eyes."

The important day and important hour arrived at last, and Mrs. John Wilsonburg and Mark Marks, Esq., of Podwick, were tied together, so to speak, and set adrift in this wide world.

At last we found ourselves engaged in housekeeping, opposite the village green in Podwick.

We had occupied the premises two

TO-DAY'S ITEMS.

At greatly reduced prices you can, during the next ten days, buy of T. J. Atkins, tinware, stoves, etc.

Avail yourself of the present opportunity to buy at panic prices stoves, tinware, etc., at T. J. Atkins' store.

Tinware, stoves, etc., selling cheap at T. J. Atkins' store on Lancaster street, next door above the post office.

A very necessary thing to have in the family, is one of J. P. Morton & Co.'s Western Farmers' Almanacs for 1874.

Patronize and sustain a first class stove and tinware establishment, and to get the best home made goods, go to T. J. Atkins' shop.

Dr. A. F. Merriman, surgeon dentist, has just returned from a professional tour, and will remain at his office for several weeks—prepared to render professional services to his patrons in this vicinity.

The readers' attention is directed to the business directory of Crab Orchard, in our advertising columns. There are represented the most liberal men—men who desire trade and give good evidence that your patronage will be appreciated.

If you consult your own interest you will not fail to read the new advertisement of R. E. Cross & Co., Louisville, Kentucky. The advantages offered to the trade in their line is not confined to the city, but reaches every town, village or country any where wished. You can send orders or for samples of any character of dry goods desired, and they will receive prompt attention.

Col. Thos. M. Eginton, Register in Bankruptcy for this District, accompanied by Mr. F. H. Dudley, the general Assignee, held a Court in Bankruptcy in Stanford, on Tuesday last. Several cases came before the Court for action, and steps were taken to finally adjust them.

A. C. Snow, Esq., of this place, announces himself in another column, a Democratic candidate for Clerk of the Lincoln Circuit Court. Mr. Snow is a young gentleman of sober and industrious habits, and by an experience of several years as Deputy Circuit Clerk, is quite competent to perform the duties of the office. Who'll be the next?

Our estimable fellow-countyman, Hiram Roberts, Esq., of Crab Orchard, has announced the sale of his personally taken place on the 5th prox., and will leave for his Texas home, Plano, Collins county, some time in December. He is one of the sterling men of Kentucky, and as such we commend him to Texans.

The storm party at H. B. Stanford last Friday night, was a very fun-loving, marriageable party. Stanford's proud presence around there has been a sweetness ever since.

The employees of the Louisville Railroad Company have notified of a reduction of ten per cent, to apply to every officer and employee connected with the road.

The newspaper is the labor and thought, and you face to face with it, and it is easy, natural way, making it home with you, you are what cost it has been brought to you so quietly that it is done for tripping into the springs into voice and being Minerva sprang into full page, brain of Jupiter, at the mere wave of the wand.

On Monday morning last, a man found lying upon the road side, near Stanford, with blood running from his head. When found, he was nearly pulseless and speechless. He was brought to a physician, where prompt medical aid was given, and he soon recovered. After he made it known that he was a member of the Masonic Order, and that grand association administered to his wants, and sent on his way rejoicing.

At this season of the year the spare-rib and sausage abound, and house-keepers suffer great uneasiness on account of household pets—the omnipresent mammal of the genus Mus—lest they eat too much and perish in their little abodes. A physician of this place prescribes the following preventive, and we repeat: "Take a small quantity of corrosive sublimate, mix with meal and place it where the rats want to congregate, then return noiselessly to your couch and await patiently the day." P. S.—Before retiring make arrangements for half a dozen drays to call at a quarter to six.

Mr. Green Bright, a prominent citizen of our county, met with a serious accident last Monday, the 17th inst. He had gone to Danville in a spring wagon driving a mule which had run away on previous occasions, and as he was driving out of town, going home, the mule repeated his old habit, to fright and started to run, when Mr. Bright attempted to check it, but unfortunately some of the harness broke, besides one of the lines which caused him to pull the mule suddenly around, which resulted in turning the wagon over, throwing him out and breaking his leg just below the knee. The fracture compound one, and his physician thinks amputation necessary.

A Word to Ky. Newspapers.

We believe there is no Kentucky editor who would intentionally injure any Kentucky who is so peculiarly unfortunate as to have capital invested in mules and horses. The newspapers of Kentucky have heretofore, acted very unwisely, we think, in publishing the few scattering local sales of mules and horses made under unfavorable circumstances, and at extremely low figures, while Kentucky drovers were in the Southern market endeavoring to realize fair prices for their stock. We are all more or less interested in the success of the Kentucky drover, if we cannot assist him in preserving the equilibrium of his balance-sheet, we should be very careful to avoid publishing anything that will possibly damage or make his prospects more gloomy. The Southern newspapers watch their Kentucky exchanges with an Argus eye, and call everything that will tend to create alarm among drovers and result to the advantage of purchases; and drovers are confronted on every side with extracts and quotations from the home markets. The practice is unjust to the drover and we hope it will be abandoned, especially by our neighbors "over the river."

GRANDEST SCHEME EVER KNOWN.

Fourth Grand Gift Concert

FOR THE BENEFIT OF THE Public Library of Kentucky!

12,000 Cash Gifts $1,500,000

Every Fifth Ticket Draws a Gift!

$250,000 FOR ONLY $50!

The Fourth Grand Gift Concert authorized by special act of the Legislature for the benefit of the Public Library of Kentucky, will take place in Public Library Hall in Louisville, Kentucky.

Wednesday, December 3, '73

Only sixty thousand tickets will be sold and one-half of these are intended for the European Market thus leaving only 30,000 for sale in the United States where 100,000 were disposed of for the Third Concert. The tickets are divided into ten coupons or parts and have on their back the scheme with a full explanation of the mode of drawing.

At this concert which will be the grandest musical display ever witnessed in this country the unprecedented sum of

$1,500,000,

divided into 12,000 cash gifts will be distributed by lot among the ticket-holders. The numbers of the tickets to be drawn from one wheel by blind children and the gifts from another.
